MEN'S WEAR!

CLOTHING

THAT TIME
PRONOUNCES BEST!

It isn't for to-day, to-morrow or next week that you buy Suit of Clothes. Clothes are bought to serve—the longer the better.

The better the Clothes the better they serve, and the better they look, even to the last day.

You can't get service or appearance out of poor workmanship. A thrown-together, pressed-up Suit may look all right for a week; then comes the time of kicks and dissatisfaction.

Peck's Clothing,

for which we have secured the agency, is made to serve long and well; to keep its shape; to look dressy as long as you want to wear it.

That's the kind of Clothing it pays to buy.

IT'S MADE RIGHT.

It's almost an investment to buy it, for a long-wearing suit pays you back more than its cost.

Next Saturday is St. Valentine's day.

Miss Rosa Gordon, of Storeville, is in the city visiting friends.

There are a few cases of chickenpox among the children of this section.

J. R. Earle, Esq., of Wallhalla, spent Monday in the city attending Court.

Mrs. Cora Ligon is in Spartanburg, visiting her sister, Mrs. H. A. Ligon.

Miss Olive Harrison, of Greenville, is visiting friends and relatives in the city.

B. O. Evans has purchased the house and lot of L. S. Mattison, on Evans street.

We were forced to carry over several communications this week until our next issue.

The examination of teachers for the public schools will be held in this city next Friday.

The time for making your tax return to the County Auditor expires on Friday, 20th inst.

F. M. Carey, one of Seneca's popular and energetic citizens, spent last Saturday in the city.

The rains continue to fall in this section, and as a consequence everybody is in a bad humor.

Mrs. Mary A. Broyles, of the Fork, is in the city visiting the family of her son, G. N. Broyles.

W. A. Edwards, a well-known architect of Columbia, spent several days in Anderson last week.

Thus far 1903 is decidedly short on clear weather. There have been but few days of that kind.

Dr. R. E. Thompson, who has been sick for the last four weeks with pneumonia, is now convalescing.

Money would be a great deal more enjoyable if it took a man as long to spend it as it does to make it.

Jas. H. Brown, of Iva, has accepted a position with B. O. Evans & Co., and invites his friends to give him a call.

S. R. Parker will leave Anderson in a few days for Greenwood, where he has accepted a position in a clothing store.

C. R. Makepeace, of Providence, R. I., the architect for the Brogan Cotton Mill, spent a few days in the city last week.

Miss Emma Sando, of Ohio, will preach in the City Hall this evening at 7:30 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend the services.

Tobacco culture is being talked among some of the farmers, and it is thought from what we can hear some will be cultivated in this County.

Married, at the Methodist parsonage, in Pelzer, on Sunday, Feb. 1, 1903, by Rev. T. B. Reynolds, Mr. G. W. Long and Miss Gussie F. Shirley, both of Piedmont.

At a meeting of the Board of County Commissioners last week J. F. Clardy was re-elected clerk, Dr. J. P. Clardy was elected county physician and E. G. McAdams, Esq., county attorney.

George Teasley left Saturday for Anderson, where he goes to accept a position as carpenter on some of the numerous buildings that are in course of construction at that place.—Elberton (Ga.) S. T.

A local weather prophet says the ground hog did not see his shadow on Monday, 2nd inst., and remained out. So we need not look for any more severe weather this season—unless the ground hog theory fails.

On Friday, January 30, John Rose, of Wallhalla, fell dead while in the stock yard in the city of Atlanta purchasing horses and mules. The deceased was well known in Anderson, where he frequently visited selling stock.

Miss Caro Miller, a daughter of the late Geo. W. Miller, of this city, was married in Birmingham, Ala., where she now resides, on Monday, 2nd inst., to John C. Lunsden, a prominent young business man of that city.

If you contemplate papering your rooms or painting your house, read the new advertisement of Q. L. Arnold in another column. He also keeps in stock a large assortment of wall papering which he will sell at low prices.

Rev. M. McGee, having been called to the pastorate of the Cross Roads Baptist Church, will preach there next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. All members are urged to attend the services and invite their friends to accompany them.

The Greenville Mountaineer says the month of February began on Sunday and each day of the week occurs four times in this month, which has happened only fifteen times since the year 1771, and in the next fifty years it will occur only five times.

A petition is being circulated in the city among the freeholders asking the City Council to order an election on the question of issuing $15,000 in bonds for the erection of another grade school building. There is very little opposition, it is said, to the question.

The year 1904 is a leap year, says an exchange. It has been a long time between leaps but we are told the calendar will not serve the girls such a trick again for two hundred years, and none of those who suffered from the present long interval can hardly count on being here then.

The merchants of the city are offering the trading public a rare opportunity to secure goods at a small cost. With each week some firm announces a reduction in price on certain lines. Read the advertisements in The Intelligencer every week and you will know where to get these bargains.

The time for paying the commutation or road tax will expire with February. Last year the time went until the first of April, but this year the tax will not be received by the County Treasurer after the 28th day of February. Those who expect to pay the road tax should remember this and pay it before March 1st.

Miss Rosa Pelzer died last Thursday afternoon at the Hotel Antrim in Pelzer, after a brief illness. She was a daughter of the late Dr. George S. Pelzer, a niece of C. J. Pelzer, of Charleston, and a most popular, accomplished young lady. The remains were carried to Charleston and interred on Saturday.

The old Osborne residence on Whitner street, at the crossing of the C. & W. C. R. R., is now being torn down to make room for the commodious brick freight depot that will be erected there by the railroad company next Summer. This residence was erected about sixty years ago by the late Leverett Osborne, and is one of the oldest in town.

The old prediction that there is a snow each winter for every fog in the preceding August is likely to be exploded this winter. One who makes it a business to watch such things says that there was three fogs, one heavy and two light, last August, and accordingly, insists that the three snows will come before the winter is over.

Mrs. Rosa Arnold, who has been spending some time with her parents at Pendleton, has been spending the past week with Miss Ida Jones. Mrs. Arnold will leave shortly for Anderson, where she goes to accept a position, where she has a great many friends here and throughout the county who wish for her much happiness and success in her new home.—Westminster Times.

Mrs. Lewis Gannels died at her home near Honea Path last Saturday, after a long illness with that ever fatal disease, consumption. She was a daughter of D. C. Ellis, of Pendleton, a teacher of D. C. Ellis, of Pendleton, a ship, and about 23 years of age. She was a good woman, and was highly esteemed by a wide circle of friends, who deeply sympathize with the husband and three little children who survive her. On Sunday the remains were interred at Broadmouth Church.

T. Homer Pruitt died at his home in this city last Saturday morning, after an illness of about two weeks with pneumonia. The deceased was 33 years of age, and a son of the late Willis Pruitt. He had been employed as night watchman at the Anderson Fertilizer Factory ever since it had been in operation, and was a most worthy, upright man. For a number of years he had been a devoted and exemplary member of Ebenezer Methodist Church, in Martin Township, and interred last Sunday morning. A sorely bereaved wife and five children are left to cherish his memory.

The Atlanta Journal of the 2nd inst. says: "Dr. William E. Campbell, for eight years with Dr. A. W. Calhoun, has opened office in the Century building, rooms 606, 607 and 608, where he will serve his patients as an independent practitioner. As heretofore, his practice will be limited to diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat. Dr. Campbell, though a young man, is widely experienced in his profession. He is a man of fine personality and has hundreds of friends who wish him every success." Dr. Campbell is a native of Anderson County, a brother of Col. L. E. Campbell, of Broadway Township, and has many friends in the County who will join us in wishing him big success.

James Elrod, flagman on a freight train of the Southern, died at the residence of J. T. Simpson last Monday evening from injuries received while coupling a train at Harlin's Switch, a few miles below Westminster. Mr. Elrod was caught between the cars as he was coupling them and was badly mashed. He was at once carried to Westminster and the physician did all he could for him but he died at 8 o'clock. Mr. Simpson was his uncle. His father and other relatives were wired for and came down before he died. His body was carried to Piedmont, his home, where the interment will take place. James Elrod was well known in this place and had many friends here who sympathize with the parents in their great loss.—Westminster Times.

The following Petit Jurors have been drawn to serve at the approaching term of the Court of Common Pleas, which convenes on the first Monday in March: A. W. Kay, E. W. Taylor, H. L. Edwards, Lee Gaudard and W. S. Lee, sr., Anderson; E. B. Rice, Ernest Geer, C. C. Grubbs and F. W. Vaughn, Belton; W. N. Cox, W. F. Gaillard and J. R. Anderson, Broadway; Fred. Bagwell and W. F. Davis, Brushy Creek; R. J. Poole, J. J. Richardson, T. H. Burris, Thomas Gerard and G. F. McConnell, Centerville; J. E. Thompson, Garvin; G. L. Schrimp, Hall; W. H. Duckworth, T. L. Webb and E. B. Keys, Hopewell; J. N. Pennington, W. H. Whitner and Thos. C. Banister, Martin; W. T. Mounce, Pendleton; J. F. Arnold and D. J. Bolt, Rock Mills; C. M. Findley and J. L. McGee, Savannah; J. B. Felton, D. B. Webb, W. T. Elrod and A. B. Heron, Varennes.

Robert M. Russell, eldest son of W. W. Russell, of this city, died at Phoenix, Arizona, on Monday evening, 2nd inst., of consumption. He went to Arizona about three months ago for the benefit of his health and the climate seemed to benefit him, but he took a turn for the worse, about ten days preceding his death, and his wife went to his bedside and was with him when he died. Mr. Russell was 33 years old, a most excellent young man and was held in high esteem by a wide circle of friends. Since his boyhood he had been engaged in the mercantile business with his uncle, Col. A. J. Sitten, at Autan, in this County, and had been very successful in his business. He was a consistent member of the Presbyterian Church at Pendleton, and his remains were brought and interred in the Churchyard there last Sunday. The deceased married Miss Anna Aull, of Newberry, who, with four small children, survive him. May God comfort and console them and the bereaved parents of the deceased in their sorrow.

Willow Camp, Woodmen of the World, of this city, one of the leading fraternal organizations of America to-day, gave a banquet last Thursday night and entertained a large number of guests. The tables, the full length of the hall, were spread and twice were the seats occupied by different ones. There were at least 250 who partook of the splendid hospitality of this order. The feast of delicious viands was followed by a feast of elegant oratory, in response to toasts, and in which there was beautifully blended wit and humor and pathos. J. W. Quattlebaum was toastmaster, and the speakers were J. L. Tribble, H. H. Watkins, Rev. J. Murchison, E. F. Cochran, J. M. Sullivan and M. L. Bonham. It was a delightful occasion. No one felt that he was a stranger. There were many young men, and a warm greeting and an abundance of merry laughter. This Order numbers 330,000 members in the United States, a fact quite remarkable when it is known that the organization had its beginning in 1890. The Willow Camp, in this city, has 175 members. The average cost of insurance per $1,000 in this order is only $12.00. It is impossible to estimate the vast amount of substantial good this order is doing. Thousands of homes and a greater number of fatherless children with widowed mother are being blessed by the benevolence of its membership. Protection of the family in case of the death of the head of the household is made possible and easy to those who need it, by a system of small monthly payments.

Arrest of Suspects.

The city was thrown into quite a ripple of excitement Thursday afternoon by the arrest of four suspicious characters by Chief of Police Dillingham and Sheriff Green. They were thought to be the safe blowers who so recently operated at Autan and Iva, and their countenances and general appearance went a long way toward confirming this belief, but after careful search and examination by questions without number, and having extended to them the hospitality of the annex of the City Hall for a day and a night, they were set at liberty.

Early Thursday they were seen entering the city. Two were in a covered wagon, to which was hitched two mules, and two followed on horseback. They came at once under the suspicion of Sheriff Green and Chief Dillingham, and they were in consultation when a telegram arrived from Iva to arrest the party, as they were thought to be the blowers who entered the store of W. P. Cook the night before. They were immediately arrested and taken to the City Hall, followed by hundreds of boys and curious men. The search was begun and lasted about two hours. In the wagon were boxes of full and empty bottles of medicine, packages of garden seed, paper labels, empty envelopes ready to be filled with seed—in short, as Dillingham expressed it, everything on the face of the earth but what they were looking for.

It was clearly evident that they were buying old garden seed from drug stores, putting them in new envelopes and peddling them through the country. They had just bought a box of seed from one of the drug stores here when arrested. The sale of these seeds is a violation of law, as is also the peddling of medicine without license. There was, however, no evidence of a sale of these articles and they could not be held.

Whatever their business, they are believed to be a set of slick swindlers, who should be watched and with whom there should be no business transactions where confidence has to be bestowed. They answered questions very reluctantly, but claimed to be from a little place near Asheville, N. C., called Gypsy. They were delighted to say good-bye to the city and went toward Williamston.

The many friends of Thos. J. Elliott, of the Waco section, will be pleased to learn that he has been appointed director of the life-saving station on the public square and will assume his new duties at once. This comes as a deserved compliment to Mr. Elliott's service during the past few weeks in the capacity of a volunteer, his most conspicuous service being that of rescuing a boat and its crew at last 34 degrees, 32 inches, long 5 degrees, 33 inches W., his only clue to the whereabouts of the last navigators being a floating whip lash by which he extricated them from the muddy depths. Mr. Elliott also speaks of applying to the council for permission to stock the square with diamond-back turtles and razor-back hogs. Mr. Elliott requests us to say that those parties who have been hesitating about hauling out their goods from Dean & Ralston on account of their fear of being buried alive in the mud need not delay any longer. The new ad of that firm in this issue tells the rest of the story.

FURNITURE

IN ANDERSON for more than forty years. During all that time competitors have come and gone, but we have remained right here. We have always sold Cheaper than any others, and during those long years we have not had one dissatisfied customer. Mistakes will sometimes occur, and if at any time we found that a customer was dissatisfied we did not rest until we had made him satisfied. This policy, rigidly adhered to, has made us friends, true and lasting, and we can say with pride, but without boasting, that we have the confidence of the people of this section. We have a larger Stock of Goods this season than we have ever had, and we pledge you our word that we have never sold Furniture at as close a margin of profit as we are doing now. This is proven by the fact that we are selling Furniture not only all over Anderson County but in every Town in the Piedmont section. Come and see us. Your parents saved money by buying from us, and your children can save money by buying here, too. We carry EVERYTHING in the Furniture line.
